PROFILE

I am a dedicated and results-oriented Bachelor of Information Technology (Hons) student at Universiti Teknologi PETRONAS, currently in my first year, second semester. I hold a Foundation in Information Technology qualification with a CGPA of 3.68. My academic background has equipped me with strong technical skills in programming, database management, and system development. I am eager to apply my knowledge and analytical abilities in a professional setting to contribute effectively to organizational goals. With a strong commitment to excellence, adaptability, and teamwork, I aim to grow both personally and professionally in the field of information technology.
